
The more one tries to look the other way
The more that one's spirit will try to say
Tomorrow's dream is never too far away
The goals you seek are ever so fleeting
The path you walk, is without an ending.

So open your eyes and seize the moment
The time has come to rise above it:
Walk in the rays of the auburn sun
Live in the peace of heaven above
What are you waiting for?
No one can ask for more.

Chorus:
As the rays of the sun keep shining down
The wisdom they speak knows no bounds
So open your eyes and see
Your heaven on earth to me.

Nothing on earth can eclipse the sun
Its golden rays keep flowing down
So open your eyes and see
Girl, your heaven on earth to me.

So open your eyes and see
Your heaven on earth to me.
